

Electronics Badge Requirements.

1. Demonstrate knowledge of simple theory of semi conduct devices and how they may be used with components to make useful electronic systems.
2. Demonstrate at least four electronic systems that you have constructed. Show that you are able to modify one to perform number of different functions. Explain in simple terms the theory of your modifications.
3. List at least four domestic and four industrial use electronics, and explain the principles on which one of them works.